Detail Report

Shahid Virpatni Laxmi Mahavidyalaya, Titave. Department of Computer Sciences & NSS unit celebrate Rajashri Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Jayanti, on 26th June 2024. On this Occasion Principal Mr. Prashant Palkar Sir said that "Shahu Chhatrapati was the Maharaja or the king of the Indian princely state of Kolhapur. Also known by the name of Rajarshi Shahu, he was known to be a great social reformer of his time. Shahu Chhatrapati was born on 26 June in the year 1874 as Yashwantrao Ghatge. He was the eldest son of Appasaheb Ghatge, who was the head of Kagal and his wife Radhabai, who was the daughter of the Raja of Mudhol that's in today's Karnataka state.

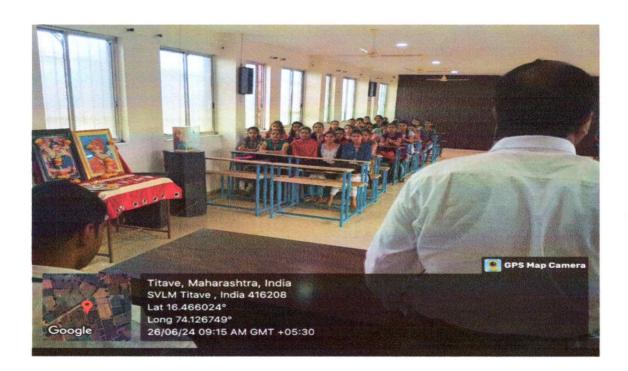

When Shahu Chhatrapati was a child, he was adopted by Anandibai, who was the widow of Maharaja Shivaji IV of Kolhapur in the year 1884. The following generations saw a lot of marriages taking place between the members of these two families. This caused Shahu's family to remain closely associated with the ruling dynasty of Kolhapur. This also helped in securing Shahu Chhatrapati's place on the throne despite his not being a male-line member of the Bhonsle dynasty.

Session was concluded by the vote of thanks by Mr. Avinash Palkar and all teaching staff, students were present for this event.
